ECOFIN, General Assembly Third Committee

Topic: Sport for Development

Fully aware that 40% of all fatalities can be related to low physical activity,

Recognizing the 6th of April as the International day of Sport for Development and Peace,

Recalling what Ban Ki-moon said regarding the International Day of Sport for Development “Sport has the power to help develop the potential of individuals, communities and nations,”

Considering that along with financial benefits, sports is one of the most inexpensive means of bringing positive socio-economic changes to the world,

1. Urge schools, both public and private, to add more physical activity in their schedule;
   a) Encourages governments to supply sporting equipment and funds to the schools for the improvement of sports;
   b) Further invites sport clubs to conduct free sessions for the children in the schools;

2. Recommends that all nations promote physical activity through advertisements, lead by professional athletes and large sporting companies;

3. Requests that sporting teams create or support fundraising matches with the purpose of supporting the impoverished;

4. Calls upon governments to adopt policies that will promote sports for persons with disabilities, as they face discrimination in many countries;

5. Further recommends developed countries to play sports with developing countries with the purpose of encouraging people to participate in sports;

6. Suggests that governments create more public spaces that are available for physical activities and maintain the ones that already exists;

7. Further Suggests the creation of an NGO that will;
   a) Operate as the administrator of all the aforementioned points;
   b) Administrate a base in each one of the countries that will support this resolution;
c) Have one representative from each base country in the headquarters, in order to understand the status of the respective country.
