Montessori Model United Nations

Languages with foreign issues. Our goal is to inspire youth to create a better world and the first step is awareness and empowerment.

Creating change. Not only are they given a platform but they are creating solutions to these challenging contemporary issues. MMUN provides more than a UN simulation and powerful scholastic experience. It opens the eyes of the participants and makes them consider the impact of their actions and decisions on different cultures and regions of the world.

They learn what the country has or has not done in relation to the issue and present a solution to the issue being discussed. Delegates prepare for these negotiations through researching the position of their represented country on these topics. In the General Assembly, delegates might discuss the impact of climate change on a country's economy or the role of the United Nations in maintaining peace during a conflict. In the Security Council, delegates might discuss Somalia or the annexation of Crimea.
