Topic: Rights of the Child

Deeply concerned by the amount of children facing poverty,

Bearing in mind the effect that major world wars and global pandemics have caused on the rights of the child,

Alarmed by the fact that some parents don't have the money to support their families which results in large amounts of impoverished children with a lack of education,

Deeply concerned by the amount of children lacking access to their fundamental needs,

Education

1. Requests better education, not only for children, but also for educators and parents who did resist some secondary education;
2. Advises fundraising for children's homes that provide adequate education;

3. Emphasizes the creation of more sports and activities for children who don't have access to better mental and physical health;
4. Draws the attention to the children who are unable to receive education and calls for a more affordable and accessible learning environment;
5. Strongly encourages the need for affordable secondary education programs;
