Topic: Women's meaningful participation in peace processes

Deeply disturbed by the lack of women in politics,

Acknowledging the lack of women in the military,

Noting with regret that women have lacking opportunities in peace processes,

Acknowledging that not many women have high ranks in peace processes,

Deeply regretting the amount of resources not going towards women's participation in peace processes,

Noting with deep concern that many more people are needed for women's meaningful participation in peace processes to flourish,

Aware of the fact that women are not being included in peace processes and they are not getting proper education,

Politics

1. Endorses higher paychecks for women in the government;
2. Requests the inclusion of every gender in politics;
3. Encourages allowing women to vote;

Empowering girls and women

4. Considers online meetings with mentors in leadership roles with young women who are interested in participation in the peace process;
5. Calls upon the world to establish leadership programs for women both online and in person;

6. Invites countries to take a survey to see how each one is progressing towards encouraging women in positions of power;
7. Recommends that UN officials should be sent to different countries to progress and encourage women's involvement in peace negotiations;
8. Encourages positive social media messages and platforms to empower young women and girls;
9. Urges women to become role models and inspire young girls and women to take roles in political positions;

Funding

10. Draws attention to funding the inclusion of women in peace processes;
11. Emphasizes the need for advertisements such as billboards, newspapers and apps that encourage gender equality;
12. Requests fundraisers where the money goes to countries that encourage women's meaningful participation in peace processes;
13. Further invites a charity app where people donate money to women in peace process;
14. Calls upon a social media app with well known female politicians, role models and world leaders to inspire others to donate to women's meaningful participation in peace processes;
15. Calls for sales and donations that go to countries that will use it to help women thrive in leadership positions;

Awareness

16. Calls for the creation of a charity dedicated to women empowerment;
17. Encourages role models to give speeches about women empowerment.
